

Earning Your Certificate of Completion

If you're planning on attending and participating both days of the training event, earning a Certificate of Completion is easy. For those in the room, earning the certificate is automatic – all you need to do is sign-in on the first day and attend both days. For those watching remotely via YouTube, if you are interested in earning a Certificate of Completion we are now able to validate your participation via Slido. We use Slido as an audience engagement tool, and presenters will routinely ask polling questions which you can then respond to. If you've entered your profile information into Slido (on your phone, tablet, or computer) and you respond to at least 80% of polls, you will receive a Certificate of Completion.

Earning Your Certificate Remotely Using Slido

If you'd like to earn your Certificate of Completion remotely, it is imperative that you do the following in Slido:

1. Join the Slido event [code #Econometrica].
2. Complete your full user profile by clicking the user icon in the top-right as indicated. Enter your name, organization, and correct email address and click the Save button. Once successful, your Slido user icon will be replaced with your first initial. Please note that if you do not see your initial then your profile is not currently active. Be especially careful to ensure your profile is still active on Day 2. If it is not, simply re-enter the same information again.
3. Respond to at least 80% of the polling questions asked on Day 1 and Day 2 of the event.

And that's it. We will automatically generate Certificates of Completion for users that the system indicates has met the requirements above. A PDF of your certificate will be sent to you via email.

Important Note: While we cannot grant you professional continuing education units directly, we have found that some professional health organizations will consider granting you credit based on your attendance. If you're interested in potentially receiving this credit, we recommend that you reach out to your professional organization and providing them with both a copy of your Certificate of Completion and a full event agenda. The full agenda can be downloaded from the Event Hub or the Quality Reporting Program Training webpage for your care setting at CMS.gov.

